

Giving Way

-She died later, appropriately, from embarrassment.

-That's her.

-In front of The Drover, for children's parade, and all gave way at once!

-And in best bib and tucker too...I'm sure. Shame!

-Cornet Band of Tuckerton give her a wide berth.

You know children: "Stink!"

Then they got her, alley back of kitchen, and Cookie brought out hose.

-Too bad she hadn't had more housings up to then!

-Just what they said in Drover. But in Troubled Wife, a little memorial service, with Doc sobering enough to play piano.

-Who goes there nowadays?
